

You are where you've been
Technological threats to your location privacy

A one day free seminar hosted by the School of Surveying and Spatial Information Systems and proudly supported by Omnilink Pty Ltd.

Date: 23rd July 2008, Venue: Law Theatre, Law Building (F8), UNSW
Cost: Free registration

Seminar Programme

Registration : 0830 -0900
Context: 0900-1030
Time	Speaker	Title
0900-0910	Ed Garvin OMNILINK	Welcome
0910-0940	Chris Rizos	Location Based Services and issues such as Privacy
0940-1025	Roger Clarke	You Are Where You've Been. Location Technologies' Deep Privacy Impact
Morning Tea:1025-1100
Session II: Legal/Policy Issues: 1100-1215
1100-1125	Helen Versey	Location Privacy : Privacy regulator's perspective
1125- 1150	Rob Nicholls & Michelle Rowland	Hic et nunc: Provision of location based services to law enforcement agencies
1150-1215	Mia Garlick	Australian Telecom Law, its current interpretation of location information, and the future
Group photo of speakers: 1220
Lunch: 1220-0120
Session III: Technology Issues:0120-0300
0120-0145	Lyn Moore	Location Privacy: Telstra's Perspective
0145-0210	Les Fenech	Practicalities of delivering LBS and policy/privacy issues
0210-0235	David Vaile	Google Street View
0235-0300	Matt Duckham	Obfuscation: Location privacy protection through spatial information hiding
Afternoon Tea: 0300-0330
Session IV: Social Issues: 0330-0430
0330-0355	Dan Svantesson	Geoidentification - - A serious threat to your location privacy on the Internet?
0355-0420	M.G. Michael	A research note on ethics in the emerging age of Überveillance
0420-0445	Usman Iqbal	Privacy-aware telematics technologies—GPS enabled insurance and social issues
Panel Session: 0445-0530
Seminar Concludes: 0530		